TECHNICAL TRAINING:

Technical training forms the core part of tennis sessions and helps players develop and improve their performance. This is achieved by perfecting players' positioning, improving shot selection and building greater power into strokes as well as improving consistency. At the beginning of each week, all students are assessed and placed in tennis class groups according to ability.

MATCH PLAY TRAINING:

This replicates the experience of a real-life game, giving students complete control over their decisions and actions. The sessions include baseline precision drills, with clear tennis goals which can be applied to matches. Students take part in both singles and doubles match play with coaches' input, encouraging tactical knowledge and mental strength.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING WORKSHOP:

Sessions include useful tips on how to prevent common tennis injuries through stretching, specific exercises, and balance work to improve movement patterns.

NUTRITION:

Sessions include understanding the role that nutrition plays in building and maintaining a healthy heart, muscle strength and overall fitness levels.
